

FAST® XDi Sportsman™ Distributors Offer Unmatched Timing Stability

Memphis, TN – These versatile distributors from FAST® are designed to provide extremely stable ignition timing throughout the entire RPM range.

Ideal for use in street/strip, drag race, oval track and off-road applications, XDi Sportsman™ Distributors from FAST® are high performance billet components with a precision housing, shaft and bearings. Each distributor's precise construction and hand-assembled parts maintain consistent end play, thereby eliminating timing fluctuations. The proprietary, in-house designed optical pickup delivers accurate trigger signals at all RPM, unlike competing options. Each distributor is available with a hardened steel, bronze or composite gear, or without a gear entirely, and all are compatible with magnetic trigger ignition boxes and performance ignition coils. FAST® XDi Sportsman™ Distributors are available for most domestic V8 applications in either small- or large-cap versions.
